FREDERIC G. KENNEDY, Principal

A. H. HORRALL, Vice Princifa'

() wake once more, how rude soever the hated

That ventures over thy magic maze to stray ;
(), wake once more though scare my skill command

Some feeble echoing of thine earlier lay:
'Though harsh and faint, and soon to die away!.
And all mothy of thy noble strain,
let. if one heart throb higher at its sway,
The wizard mote has not been touched in vain,
Then silent be no more! Enchantress, wake again. Scott

Class History

（ mace ubon a time，a long time ago，some－ thing ver！extratedinar！happened．It was in the spring of 1920 ．

Sll wa：quiet and peacefu！in the little town of＂Lnsophistication．＂Most of it．drows！ inhabitant were tilted back in their chatr：in front of the Elotel Ilayseed．A checter ganne was in progress there，and farther on down the street，leaning heavily against the town hitching rack，snoring contentedly was the vil－ lage ennstable．Ithe whole atmosphere was one of complete resignation．
（j）on the top of＂Pegimners＂hill，just weat of town，stoon a large wagon．＇The suns bright rays made it glisten in its fresh new coat of ＂green＂paint．It was half past eight on that crent ful day，when suddenly the and was filled with shrieks and cries of mad laughter．The tow：citizens came to life immediately，and the checker game was discontinued．The village police forec awoke with a stant and fell back－ wards ofer the hitehing ratck into the watering trough．

Ill ele were turned towards＂Beginners＂ hill，and what a sight they beheld．I hilarious bunch of youngsters just out of grade school came dasling up the hill and climbed into the wagon．To it they hitched two steeds，＂De－ termination＂and＂Hard Wort，＂and giving it a mighty push，rolled of $f$ down the hill and out on the＂High School＂road of＂Fiun and Fret＂leaving behind forever the little town of ＂［ insophistication．＂

What is jolly buncle they were．＇There was Fthel Lafferty，＂Coop＂Curry．Iouise Clau－ sin，Fedey Hogle，Johmy（iraham，lilta Water：－ Don loness and at lot of others．I＇robably your wouldu＇t have recognized any of them．they were stich a pouthtullot．Fithel afferty wat a cute little thing with fluffy curls，and＂Coop＂ Cump was a meek－eyed lad who woukdn＇t even look at one of the fairer sex．But＂Them Days Is Gone Forever，＂eh，＂Coop＂
＇the travelers found their journey not as dif－ ficult as they had expected．All except John Graham，who decided there was no great hur－ ry，and so was lost，ere they came to＂Sopho－ more Lane．＂
＇The time passed switly and soon the edu－

Cation sectiers turned off on to＂Junior De－ twur．＂＇They crossed the bridge of＂Popular－ it！＂but luckily disl not fall into the waters of the river＂C＂onceit，＂which floned beneath．

Pretty aon they met byton AcCoy，and liking his appearance picked him up and went on．

Dbotu evers one got most awfully tired of the horse＂Hard Work．＂He was such a boresome old nag．of they whitched him and let hime go，but then their progress was ：much Gower．＂（）n farther the wagon wheels stuck in two leep ruts，＂Chemistry＂and＂Physics．＂ It wa：too much for the horse＂I ）etermination＂ （1）pull them out alone and he was obliged to lie down and rest．

The bunch were having a goorl time when ＂（1）d Man Conscience＂cance along and whis－ pered to them．Immediately they found＂I Iard Wonk，＂hitehed him up and barely made ＂Scnor＂Highway＂because they had lost so much time．

Sow the tavelers asked Lawrence Davisom （o）take the driver＇s seat．Before they had depended upon the teammork of＂Hard lionk＂ andd＂I Petermination．＂

It＂Flunkville＂＂＇spite＂Castle，Marye Fin－ ne！．Margatet Cireen，John Heily，and Kate long joined them．lather on they found Viola Thlessing，full of pep and amxious to go with them，and they took her along．
＇The way was rough．but the travelers，who b，mon were older and more experienced， withstood the effects of the hard travel．One last catastrophe impeded them．I wheel came off when they crosed the ditch of＂Compul－ sory（imm，＂but you know＂Hard Work＂and ＊ 1 ）ctermination！
（） 17 lanuary 4 ，1924．they dressed in their beat，and frolicked far into the night at a big barn dance，which was the last party they en－ ioned together．

Ifter four learo of travel they found them－ －clves at the ir journey＇s end．in the city of ＂（iraduation，＂which is reall！the begimning of the＂Road of life．＂

Class Will

He it temembered that we, the Senion Class of the North Central High School in the city of spolane and the sitate of 11 ashington, being of lawful age and sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereld, publish, and declare that this is our last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us made.

Jmions: We, in all due ceremony begueath to you practical combluct of life in good sense and scound judgment; also proper things to sa! and the proper time and place to say them.

Sophomores: Wic leave to your our good manners. superior kow ledge and good looks to be used henceforth and accordingly: Realize that we, the departing seniors, have leen the gubling star during four so-far eventful career of leaming.

Freshman: 1)n ato we hate (fonce Do not get diseouraged. Lie an ourb Rhubarl) Vaselino Shiek. Harr! Hein\%en, has been. He says, "Wére newer too old to learn." So why mot staly at Sorth Ceentral as long as you can learn. Viso. Ireshmen, give the world the leest bou have and the leest will come back to you.

Jantors: We lequeath the privilege of piclinge up minnte particlen of waste paper left on the flome be thoughtless freshmen.

Athlemic Mbility: Romite ()strander leates his sreat foothatl ability to "'ul)" laird hoping he will be, in the future, as capable a man.
boyce (arier-small but mighty leaves her wonderful executise abilits to Dlarcella Brainard with the hope that she will be equally sticcessitil.

We leare, with Viola blessinges consent, her masputerilled erelashes to Marion 1 , eslie with the warning to loware of earl morning rainstorms or hysterical laughter as they prowe rery disastrons.

The class will committee has lost precions hours of needed sleep racking its brains over the romantic problem of learl Clintonfanghianters" Stage Door and "Coop" ( Clr !

W\% leave lirank Feinney's suggestion to the remaining boys of Norti Central that they make dates with his daughter Narye to go gum hunting under the seats at the Hippodrome theater. Is variety is the spice of life, e hope that just speamint is not found.
We compliment and leave the successful planning of several of our graduates of graduating together, to Melloa W'elton and Melvin Solms.

We leave Naturine Godfrey's fantastic toes (1) "Eilgy" Hogle for the success of his dance in the pejp convocation.

We take with us, Lawrence Davison, our class president and hope for his attaimment of the presidency of the Kinkey-Dinks.

Ife. the class will committee, do hereby beg, and implore to the utmost of our untiring eiforts to the faculty of North Central to do all in their power to aid the several intendents of matrinomy (as soom as school is out) to gradwate as their very carlient conventence. ('The comnaittee expects graduation presents for this suggestion). It is better to try to catch flies with sugar than vinegar so after this heress. We realize that presents for the young bride wili not be expected from the $W$ ill commitlee

The graduating seniors offer this sound suggestion to the freshmen present and to come. Be prepared for the worst. Start satsing the shekels carly next year so that the drwes for the freshmen carnival (gueen will not give ont, on account of lack of funds.
'lhes secret will be dinelosed. It takes years to get anything beneficial for a school, so freshmen ask santa Claus for spades and shovels nest rear, then be the leader:- if not financially, physicall: Use the valualle implements to a good advantage.

Vone on a leader and start digging the hig athletic field to be called "Kennedy Bowl," so it will be finished be the time Clatude We Mrath graduates.

Last hut not least, we leave the faculy our most learty and sincere thanks and appreciations for their untiring aid and pleasant companionship.
'The previous class will committee willed to us as much trouble in writing this document as they had in writing theirs. We can do no les. than pass this wish to the following committee.

I MAKE A BUSINESS VENTURE

By Eliæabeth Jordan

Bi profession I am a book agent. Lil mature I am a temperate and morlest young man. In what manner I have so incurred the displeasure of the grods that they should infringe upon m! dignity to the extent of making me. against m! will, sultan of a morlern harent, I (lo) not know:

From carliest youth I have always presenter a seholarls appearance, so I am told. Havins been lorn with weak eyes I ann accustomed to adorn my physiognomy with a pair of shell rimmed glasses. Ay hair is parted in the middle in conformance with the latest style I do wot hide the fact that I have a temdency to lisp. But let me say that I am not possessed with boldness or the spirit of adsenture and my actions of late are not in accorlance with my natural timidity
I ast Firidey I had occasion to visit the donmitor! of a girls' school in order that I might convince the fair members of the necessity of possessing a copy of "1Phe Sulb-conscious: Wind and its F'unctions," "written by l'rofessor Narit\% Heidlemann and published by the Hinstale l'rinting company: I rang the bell and openter my month for action.
"Coukd I interest you in the latest and most complete edition of the F'unctioning of the Suh-Conscious Mind:" I began.
"() Hhat's all right. Just keep still and comes in. You may be able to use that little line of chatter later," quoth the fair damsel who opened the door. I'lacing one lily hand upon my slecee and the other on me shoulder she dragged and pushed me into the room. Thasing accomplished this much single handed, other lily white hands came to the rescue and pushed ine forcibly into a chair.
"Wrive been expecting !on," said they in chorves.
"Ïinc." I sitid, "so von've heard about my" proposition?"
"Four make-up"s good," said one who seemed to be speaker for the crowd.
"T never thought so,' said I, "Lets get down to business. How many copies do you want?"
"How many copies vould we like?" echoed the female congregation. "TWe diln't know they came by copres. We want to hear the plans."
"I fear there is some mistake," I sad in a kinghtly fashim.
"Aren't you Jack Itill who was sent here loy Amabelle Jackson?" said the speaker in a guivering roice.
"No, I'm Percival 'Thompon sent here by the 1 linselale l'rinting company," I said, seeing the mistalie.
"Ilell, we're afraid you must be going," said the chorus in excitement. Is much assistance was given me in preparing to lease as in entering. 'Then, like a thunder bolt out of a clear sly a hrill roice piped, "Run! Hirle him. Here she comes."
" 11 ho comen: :"
" Miss P'erkins."
Confusion reigneel. 'There was gnashing of teeth and tearing of hair. Helpless girls howered ammessly about like butterflies in a rain sorm. 'Ihen one, with female intuition, suggested that we change our location to the bedronm. Igainsi my will I was pulled into the sanctuary forbidden to the masculine element and seated on the bed. Like an ominous portent the doorbell rang. In the midst of pending distruction I swelled with pricle. '1'his was the first time in my brief history that I hat been the center of attraction. (iinls, girls everywhere and not a man in sight. 'Then I was brought back, with a tart, to the realization of my unfortumate position. Necessit! was agam the mother of invention and I was commanded to put on a dress which had been brouglit forth from the closet.
"I refuse, young ladies. This is an outrage."
"Kieep still and put it on. It's too late to do anthing now: You can't refuse muless ! ou have a better idea."
"Prut me in the eloset."
"'1his is inspection day:"
"What do you expect me to do, if I resign myself in your nonsensical plan?"
"Keep quiet and let me hook !on up. Iou are Amabelle Jackson."
"I am Percival Thompson."
"Fou are Anmabelle Jackson and you re showing off your new hat."

She of the wild ideas suited her actions to her words and placed one of these mant colored sumshades on my head.

Ipproaching footstej)s renewed lagging haste. Igain I received aid from lily white hands and instructions from frenzied voices.
"Sit well up on the bed." I shove in that direction.
"Dide you fect under your dress." A smonething of ruffled skirt io hide a pair of pants.
"Keap your hack to Minerva."
"Speak ouly when youre spoken to and then let it be brief.'

No longer conld I cope with the situation.
"To think that I could have come to this. I refuse and also I -." But here my oulburst came to a sudden finish. How vain, those earnest words. Aready sherlock Holmes had completed her inspection of the fromt part of the house. If ever manhood was put to shame mine was. The idea of a self respecting representative of the firm of Hinsdale and Som, Primers, lowering himself to the degree of being found in a girl's bedroom, dressed in a girl's dress and surrounded by a bery of strange girls.

The instructoress swept haughtily into the room. My harem crowded around me on the beed. I trical to present a girlish figure from the lack: I cocked my head first on one side and then on the other. I stretched my neck and put a serene and angelic expression on my face in showing off my girlish charms. Feai of diselosure kept my arms close to my sides and my hands clasped in my lap.

Having peered into the closet and gone through numerous dresser drawers, Miss l'erkins directed her line of march toward the bed and halted.

It was up to me to say something. Speech is silver and silence is golden but my silence contd not last forever. I racked m? brain for the prejuer words.

Then an inspiration came from above I squinted my face and stretched my rocal chords and said in a high strained falseth, voice, "Yes. I like this hat. I've never had one like it lefore."
"It is becoming from the back, my dear," sals. Miss P'erkins. "Your woice sounds ver baid today. Yom must let me look at yomil throat."
"Oh, she"s alright," came from every side:
I shook my head vigorously in confirmation.
" 1 must see your throat immediately, Smun $^{\text {m }}$ belle. Thurn around and open your mouth"
'Oi: aliter visum.'
II time had come. My day of doom that arriver. Did I open my mouth? No. Th. others opened theirs and groans and wails came forthwith. It was up to me to cover gromed and the quicker the better. I remond the door in one leap. At this point in m? journey I took the time to turn around ani: give my audience one deep and heart felt how. Ancl, oh, that look of holy- horror that reseel on Miss Perkin's face. And, oh, the seorcling glance which she directed toward my lower extremities protruding below that ruffled skirt.

But time and tide wait for no man amb, like a tlash of lightening, I took my course to distant parts.
I forget the details of my flight but I recall tearing the dress from me as I ran as a last resort to extricate myself from that piece of feminite apparel. Nso I remember feelin: the preseene of many pairs of eyes upon me as I ipecl.

I mark this tragic episode as the outstanding crent of my young life. I shudder to thinh? of such an outrageous assault on my manly dignity, yet, withal, I suffered no greater material loss than a grey felt hat and a copy of "The Sul-Conscious . Iind and Its Founctions."

GIVEN NAMES

Sone months ago I was ast by the colitor of the News, Fill Jirram to be eqzact, 10 rite a article for the News. 'That article on the fair and otherwise sex was so suecessful an 1 got a answer to it so fast that 1 deceded to respond to the urgings of the editor of this here classic and rite some more. Ifter some deliberation, considerable thot, an more reflexion ata 10 dooty, I deciked to be a champion of the poror kids which is supposed to be uplifted by the names tied to 'em when they begans there careers as lumans. Given names is the thinge I aim at particularly because famil! names is things we got to endure and can't help.

In the first place there is two linds of given names. 'Them is namely them which is hander down from generashun to generashun and them pretty little things which mothers is so proud to eall chikdren of an inventive mind.

Sow in regards to them inherited afflictions. They is afflictions the same as a can on your tate is. 'they are people who if they ever had a ancentor with a name like Henry, Oaklatheine, ' seec, Waldo, Horatio, Maggie, I Meobe, ligathy: Silas, Cyme, Irehibald or somethin just as beatiful, distinguished and appealing io the sentiments, feel that they grot to pass it along to a string of poor kiels. It don't take much provieation either. I notice any litte thing like scrublbin deck: ou the Nay Four, cookin for the first lacly of the land or polishin lincoln - boots is enough for some of them.

I no a gut mamed sylvester. All his frients call him! Silly. He was named after atn uncle just because said uncle was the leading man in his town at the time he died. He led the rest of the town by a hundred yards. 'lohey Were chasin him with a rope and he tripped over a ash can and broke his neck. I guess they named him Silly becatuse his uncle was clever enough to dorlge a necktic part!.

Sill! don't think much of his uncle (can yout blame him uncle bein' responsible for that name), but his dad and mother seem to. 'They got a pieture of him on the piano. He's one of these birds with side draperies under his nose and a wall paper pattern shirt that makes his fromt look like a section over the kitchen sink.

Insented namen is things like Anelius and Pelorns. I can't see nothin' good about them unlesis it's the nerve it took to hang a thing like that on a poore defenseless kid.

I! name's llemry. I don't know whether it was inherited or insented but I gess it was cartied by some ancestor before me and I stripeects it was a mant. It least it ain't original. Every time annbody yells Henry at me, I feel like something that should have been shot in the Civil war.

When a kid is christened ommthin like the before mentioned, he usually raises a howl, a fuss, and as much of the devil as he can. If he was ofder he'd cuss and tell 'em what he thought about it, but as le usuatly ain't, atl he can do is kick, screech atud squawh. It's a wonder they dosit break a bottle ower his head. Such treathent would go well with the name and it seems to be popular in christening louds, battleships, ete. When the kid hegins (6) squall and annoture to the world that he don't appreciate his fond parents choice of fom de well it's French antway, his understanding mother lays his peewe outburst to a attack of colic and the voung one gets castor (ii) and the hot water bottle instead of a decent name tor his indisposition, "lohinkin' he has one his point he shuts up and the outrage is fininlied.

Personally, I think that these inventive trentses amone the mothers is reaponsibe for a lot of us kids woe in later life. It also is meopinion that a father who lets a mother tangle a kid up in a thing like ()aklatheine, a name that sommds like somethin that strated from a chemistry mamal, has about the same lind of a heal as one of these exhibition ostrich eggs bown. You can usually tell 'ems, to, becatse they got these kinda Komedy Kat grins on their moldy lookin' phys sondethin, and there hats is somewhere letween a sumbonnet and a somburro.

Nicknames is pleanin things 10 . 1 carried F'oots for mine for a momber of vears, but thank frod noburly ever called me Hen or Coop, the natural derications of Hemry.

THE SCANDAL MONGER'S REVIEW

Eilta Waters sure seems to fall for these redheaded ice men. Jach Graliam you know, is quite a mean man with the ice tongs.

Spanish operettas and dark complexioned men seem to fascinate "Whatie" Battshe becatuse she handles both with ease, especially the men. Itheetes, inowever do not seem to appeal to her, excepting "Filgie" Hogle, and there's a reason for him. "Dlatude" savs that Hogle is so mely that he's cute but she failed to mention Vime Peterson or Tohn Graham.
'The foothatl fellow: sure did enjoy their banguet, that is, the part in which liaturine fiodirey stared. Oin yes - she linows her eroceries when it conles to using her feet. The gridiron serappers never will forget Mamine's gracefit, fimtastic monements.

Marye Jinney's assuctions with Spokane's Irish collegians have seemingly ceatsed abthough her new foor mat gleanis forth with "On' Honte is Vlways $11^{\text {e }}$ eleome."

High grades seem to be Sylvia 'rateln's hobbr. She's a wonder at figures. Nio wonder!

Each class must have its president and January '24 did not fall down when they electer Lawrence "Larry" Davison. A goorl sport, level headed, and square, he carries the werries of his class without a whimper. Astronomy, by the way, is his favorite subject.

Surely Johnny Graham has not read the latest edition of the Book of Eitiquette or "Tiny" Robinson would not have had to deliberately steal a chresanthemum at Davenport's after the operetta. John, the young lady shoult have had a corsage. Don't let it happen again.

As a dramatist, lirances (iillert would sure shame V'era Gordon and proved it as leading lady of the class play. She also kept a record of tire money account.

Executive ability is not lacking in Jorce Grier. (hirls league president was not her only chance to show her alility as a leader. Club presidencies were her specialty.

Louise Clausin's last days at North Central seem to have been rather ill fated. Dwight Snyder's departure across the river was rather a blow to Louise.

Marsh Smith not only believes in saving his voice but also that quality which made man go wild over Vanderbilt. His entrance at the proms at the last hour proved to be of verv little strain on friend pocket book.
'The Bors' F'ederation presidency may lead John "Pat" Heily into political circles where his affiliations with the Rooters' club ought to help him in his future congressional speeches.

Abner Grimsrud did not live up to the character he portrayed in the class play when Grace Robinson lefi for California. Rings do cost! Don't they, Abmer?

Aside from being a musician and a foothall specialist, Byron IIcCoy is also a slicker at cards according to testimony introducerl by Viola Blessing who ought to know. She alleges "Bel)e" owes her two fifty as the result of a card game but as yet Byron has failed to come acioss.

As far as classes go, chemistry is one extreme and dranatics another. Yet North Central has witnessed the chemistry department taking an active interest in the dramatic department and rice versa. However, Mr. Hawes might make a good stage hand under the direction of Miss Elliot.

Within the walls of the North Central tepee struts one brave chief, namely Ton Tones, leader of a warring band of pisskin artists. Don sure stuck to his post as fontlall captain and showed real Indian spirit. Don is a box fighter, maybe that's the reason. "Edgic" Hogle, captain-elect is no "box fighter," of any importance but Hogle is going to do all in his power to fill Don's shoes. Congratulations in Don and more poller to Hogle.

We hope that Harry Hesslein will get into the Masque soon. We think that a mask or a muzale would improve his appearance considerably:

Fred 1 Dille's best class has proved to be : psischology class. Rather strange too, as a rule girls do not interest Dille, but there must be a woman in every man's life. Who is she: Dille?

Igatha shook is so fond of those old-fashioned songs. The other day she was heard merrily carolling, "Just a Little Rocking Chair and You." We don't mind the song, but we are afraid that if the rocking chair was very "little," Agatha would have to stand up.

North Central's beef trust, alias "Tubby" Laird, has proven himself quite kittenish at some of the dances lately. He almits that he had a good time at the first Harlequin dance but what happened after the dance (?) is "Tubly's" own business.
T'ongh pickings for "Shick" Heinzen. Good looking enough alright but the girls do find something lacking. The freshmen maids STOP! LOOK! and LIS'TEN ! but even their supposerlly significant grey matter fails to comprehend the missing link.
"Rough House Rafferty" sure lives up to her nick name when she leads rells but even the worst of the Cas House gang have their good points.

Commercial English is an important study withont a doubt and a necessary article in the business world. Perhaps Mr. Strieter and Miss Williams are contemplating a business venture. They have been trying to teach each other the fine points of their respective arts for some time and they seem to be doing nicel? together.
"In Ye Coode Olde Days" each Royal Court had its Jester. The Royal Court of January '24 not to be outclassed has found humor and wit writtent all over Elinor Jackson. Elinor's witticisms have caused more than one langh among her classmates.

The Green Sisters, like the Watson and Hoyt sisters of stage fame, are also footlight specialists, although not of the musical comed! type. Margaret is a talented speaker and elocutionist and would slame Caesar himself. Ciencrieve, although not gifted as a talker, has already made a bicl for P'avlowas' laurels.
Whi is it that girls fall for fonthall herocs: Fern Hawkey should know "Clown" Mecrath plays a real game of football lant Fern, says he isn't half as rough of the field as he is during the game.
Doris Niles refused to sever relations with the navy until after Christmas but the particular section of the fleet in which she was interested must have sunk in a storm at sea as no results were forth coming.

Kate long thinks that variety is the spice of life. Duke Slater, Houston Stockton, $1 . y \mathrm{nn}$ Cox and her library shiek bear witness as they have been the variety.

YE KNIGHT

The king swore. This was the serenth game if checkers he had been obliged to lose to the court jester to keep him happy: 'This king job seemed to be entirely "give and take" anyway: Now who could this be, daring to interrupt the royal taain of thought? 'The door opened and the Kinight of the Bedstead entered the room. 'This kinight had been dubbed the Knight of the Bedstead because of his continued enjoyment of that article of furniture.

The royal Checker chamber became silent When the silence grew so thick that he could not see the ling, the knight, drawing his jackknife from its sheath cut a hole in it. Then falling upon his knee, the knight begged permission to travel in search of adventures. Could he allow an untried knight to go in search of adventures? issuredly not! He must first test him, but how? Suddenly the door burst open and in stamped the head cook. The cook was angry: The queen had dirtied dll of the royal dishes in a vain attempt to make some tarts for the head candle stick makirr. The seven assistant bull-cooks absolutely refuscl to wash the dishes. They had washed these same dishes nine times in one week. They would not allow the cook to wash the royal Chinaware and threatened death to anyone who should try to wash it. Now, if the king didn't get some one to repair this damage, he, the head cook, would go on a continued and immediate strike. The king promised to get some one and thrning to the Kinght of the hedstead assigned the task to him.
The knight repaired to his private chamber to make preparationss for his trial. First, he pulled a grindstone from the corner and for three hours he whetted his trusty jack-knife. Next he polished his suit of armour. He polished the armour until he could see himself in it. 'Then, drawing on the tried and trusty apron of the head cook's, he descended to the royal kitchen.

No sooner had the kinght entered the royal kitchen, when, there sprang from behind the door, the seventh assistant bull cook. Dralling his trusty knife, he carved off the villian's left car and threw the body into the corner. 'Then, as he saw nobody else in the room he started to work. He piled all of the dirty dishes in the sink. Next he lifted the dishpan and under it, to his surprise, found the other six assistant luull cooks Manfully he carved off each left ear and threw the remains into the corner. 'Then he stanted to wash dishes. For seven days and seven nights the linight worked. It last he was finished except for the ()kl Gaken Bucket. This he could not get clean. Finally, in sheer desperation, he borrowed a plane from the chief toy maker and planed the bucket clean.

After gathering together the several ears of the assistants, the Knight of the Bedstead went forthwith to the Royal Checker Chamber to claim his reward. 'The king was well pleased. He gave our hero the additional title of "Sir Scrulbing Brush." Next he promised to place a gold star upon the round table before the seat of the Knight of the Beclsteal. Finally, presenting the knight with the royal shoelace, the king gave his permission for the journey, and the kinight departed rejoicing.

A STORY OF DEFEAT

He kinelt at her feet. He gazed up i:mo her averted face searchingly, but berond a silent, suppresse? liting of her lip, she betrayed no flicker of emotion.
As his ga\%e fell, a shatlow of pain crossed her features, her eyes closed, her lips twitched as if controlling an intense desire to speak to the man at her feet.
His hands moved convulsively; his long, glossy black hair fell down in disarray.
She leaned over suddenly: softly, and hysterically laughed.
". II last," he said.
"Yes." she answered, "it was a tight squeeze, wasn't it? I'll buy this pair, and you mav wrap up my old shoes."

DOIN'S IN OUR NEIGHBORHOOD

(if all the dein's 1 ever saw, I never saw dom:- did like our neighborhoot done.

Some how er other those words don't seem I' have quite the right swing to 'cml, but, anyhow, they spress my feelings. You got to go some t' keep up with our part o' town ans ol' day, but, say, aroun this time of the rear we just put on a reg'lar laughlander show with a constant change of program. Sometimes Mas: inclined t' think we 're stagin' Dante's Inferno, an' Mad, he's cominced we're just tryin' $t^{\prime}$ send him to Medical Lake. But they're both wrong. 'The only thing that's the matter with us is that we're full of the ol Itarry an we don't iatend t' keep him in storage.

Now my sis is some kid. All in this workd she's got $t$ ' do is drink an' be merry, an', $t$ see her, you'd think she had the weight o' the world on her shoulders.

But don't think that I run my own family down. No, sir. 1 give her full credit for what she can do. She's one o' these here three in one contraptions. Too wind her up you twist her pigtail. I'resto. She starts. Her tongue an' hands an' feet all fly at the same time. 'The object $n$ ' the game is $t$ stop her. You may be able to quiet the walking apparatus and break the clutch, buit, oh, that instrument of speech. Like time an' tide it waits fer no man.

I'ersonully I hate to see her talk so much. It's all ful hard on her tonsils. I've suggested that ma take her to a tonsorial artist but it don't seem to do much goorl.

But saly, you should have seen that kid when she had that classy part - oh boy. It was one o' these here "at homes" when all the neighbors came over t' get in on the free bread line and later gossip. Sis puts on the beeutifulest party dress and rebraids the pigtail for the seventh time of the daily dozen. I don't see how she stands it. I comb mine once a week and it nearly kills me. Na did her bit when it came to dollin' up, too. Fer awhile we was pretty scared, cause when we went in her ro mo t' ask if it was all right t' take three helpings of refreshments, we found that she'd turned into a mumme. Her face was all muddy an' crinkled and she couldn't even talk. First

Whe 'd point to her face and then $t$ ' the botale of -tuff on the bed. Well, when I found out What hat ruined my ma I picked up that ol hottle an threw it as far as I could out o' the window.

It was ma's Ninceralia beauty clay and it Nas my IVaterloo.

Finally ma got past the preliminaries and got out her new afternoon frock. Then a wicked ol' mail got in the way an' ripped the thing all the way up the back an' "a sudden belinus attack kept ma upstairs for a time." It was up to sis of the wikd, wikd, tongue to entertain awhile. According t' her custom she rose to the occasion.

Ill sis had to do wu\% serve cake and tea an let the company take care of themselves until ma came. She kept up a steady stream of comversation, toon. 'To each one she told of ma's sudden sicknens, to each one showed the beetutiful party dress and the "cute little pocket" and 1 each one she repeated all the gossip that the previous one had told to her.

Mrs. Sam Smith comes up and says in that high tomed way "My deah child, you mu:t thank your pooah sick mother foah that delicious consomme."

An" sis says, "Why Mrs. Smith that wasn't nothin' but plain soup."
Then she heard some boody screaming an she ran as fast as she could over $t$ ' the piano. When she got their Mrs. Archibald Higgins was singing. Sis forgot what the name of it was but she said that it sounded like the tune that the of' cow died of. L'p she walks to Mrs. dichibakd an' tells her that she never could understand classical music anyway, She'd like something that had swing to it, something like "Yes, We Have No Bananas."
Finally ma comes down an' relieves her of the responsibility. She goes an sits by a sweet looking lady who has an uncle who is a clown. The more she talks about circuses the more the sweet dame talks about flowers. She says, "I have a Wandering Jew in My Bedroom." Then sis says, "fiee aint you scared to have him walkin around at night?"
Then all of a sudden an awful commotion breezes into the room. 'Three o' them wimen who ma was tryin' to make the biggest impression on start t' gulp an' choke an' raise the roof. An what do you think they were all a chokin' on? It was marbles! Marbles. Honest 10 goochness marbles. Ma's cake was full o' marbles.

Then it just dawned on me. I thought my sides was goma split. 1 laughed so hard. What d' you think that kid sis o' mine had done?

You know it just breaks her heart to have me get the best o' her. She's just like the old lads I heard 'bout once. The man an' his wife had an' argument an' she was determined that scissors was more useful than knives.

He said, "Kinives."
She said, "Scissors.
Ile couldn't stand it any longer and threw here in the river. When she couldn't talk any more ann was goin' down she stuck up her fingers out o' the water an' wiggled 'em like a pair o' scissors.

Well, my sis is worse 'an that. When she salw me put all them dryed daddy-long-legs and spider legs in ma's spider leg tea she was just green. She loped an' moped around dil mornin' last thing 1 heard her say before I went out, wuz, "Say, ma, what kind o" cake is that agoin' t' be:"

An' ma says, "'Mat's goin' to be matble cake."

An' you know, that kid went an' took all my best immies and stuck in ma's "at home" cake.

Well, finally, after ma had made about a hundred scuses an apologies and everybudy had made remarks about the flavor of the tea, sis's genius hown up again.

Without tellin' noludy, sis had gone an' put a piece in the paper sayin' that we wuz desirous of havin' a cat an' dog that could get along alright together. 'Then she goes an' adds that we woukd like to have samples sent fors inspection.

Without lettin' anyborly in on the secret she had got about twelve pairs: o' cats an' dogs up in the back hedromm.
I don't know how it ever happened but all of a sudden "into the valley of death canue the two dozen." I never saw nothin' like it before 1 thought we wu\% havin' a tornatlo. Cats fought dogs and dogs fought cat.s ant the whole bunch chewed an' junped on ma's company:

I guess I don't need to say it didu't take them? ladies long t ' get out of our house.

An' it sure wuz a sad world fer us mates.

Na wit rumed fer life an sis wu\% pullin' her hair an' nashin' her teeth an' 1 wuz doin' my best to get them cats an' dogs rounded up. Nolurly can tell me what folls mean when they say, "It wuz rainin' cats an' dogs," I know.

Then, pretty som, the storm kinda calmed down an' it wi\% sis's turn to get refreshments. lia said that she'd be served upstairs an for desert ma gave, er, -but, olgee, that's a different story:

An' as I said before we sure do have some doin's in our neighlorhood.
$\therefore \mathrm{C} \triangle \mathrm{R}$

STLDDENT NOTES

Bob Irritchard is going to motor to Alaska ihis summer in his O. ford Twin Nine to play lead in an Exquuimoss saxophone orchestra.

Our friend B. McCor's new name-"PyBy." 'That surely is a Blessing.

Datrdine- How iong did it take you to learn to drive a car?

Johny-Not very long; just four cars.
Cet out the telephone directory and we'll sing a couple of numbers.

FORENSICS

Forensic activities in North Central were revived this semester with the inauguration of the North Central Debate League. This league, under the direction of John Shaw, delate coach, was formed with the purpose in mind of reviving interest in delating in North Central and of interesting the largest number of studeats possible in the benefits of delating.

Eight teams, each with a captain and two tean members, were chosen and a schedule was drawn up so that every team would debate iour times, wice on the affirmative and twice on the negative on the question, Resolved: 'That the United States should enter the Wiond Court in accordance with the Harding plan.

Firom the outset, the league was a success. The students of the school showed great interest in the results of the frays, which were judged loy members of the faculty, there for each debate. 'The groups of students who attended the delates, which were held after school, greatl! increaserl toward the chose of the contest.

Principal Kennedy, to cuconrage interest in delating, catly offered medals to the members of the wiming team. This added incentive had the result of making some of the debates very spirited.

The schedule progressed until thee teams remained in the ruming for the medals. These leams were the ones captamed by Hugh Cheesman. Margaret Coughlin, and Vincent Shinkle. A surprise was sprung when the inexperienced team captained by Henry Olsen won a two to one decision over the Cheesman team. 'The race was then between the teams of Nlargaret Coughlin and Vincent Shinkle, and these two teams were to meet in the last debate of the leaguc.

The final debate was hotly contested. The girls' team, with Coughlin as captan, won a two to one decision over the boys' team. N1though Shinkles' team lost their last delate to the girls, nevertheless they won the Kirnedy medals. L'p to the final debate, shinkle's team had cight judges' decisions and Coughlin's team had six. So as a result of the final fray, the boys' team had a total of mine decisions and the girls' team only cight. As the wiming tean? was chosen by the number of judges' decisions, Shinkle's tean won the series of delates.
The captains and members of the various leams, ranked according to the total number of decisions received are as follow:

Yincent Shinkle, captain; Bernard Molohon and Lavalctte Taylor, 9. Margaret Coughlin. captain; Margaret Still and Luella Bruce, 8 . Hugh Cheesman, captain; Eric Johnson and Joc Helphrey, 7. Henry Olsen, captain; Elmo Starr and Donald Ross, 6 . Hillis Henry, captain; Howard Whitney and Theodore Turner: 5. Harry Allen, captain; Kenneth Davis and Earl Swanson, 5 . Weldon Schimke, captain: Francis Roesh and Philipp Callahan, 4. Don Cary Smith, captain; Ralph Gilby and James Hephrey t.

The success of the first North Central Debate lwague was so evident that it was decided to start another series of debates immediately. Out of this league were to be picked the participants of the Nhlquist Debates, both senior and junior. Both of the debates will be held in the spring semester, this year, instead of one in the fall and the other in the spring as has been the custom in former years. The prizes in the senior division are $$ 40$ and $$ 25$, and in the junior, $$ 20$ and $$ 15$.

Sports

FOOTBALL

Though the scores of the past season on the gridiron show that North Central did not win all her games, it cannot lee said that the season was not a successful one. The team won the first two games of the ' 23 schedule by overwhelming scores, but later was crippled because of the loss of the Red and Black captain, 1 ) on Jones.

The last game before the annual I.ewis and Clark battle was lost to Hillyard, but with careful coaching the team was quickly put into shape and they held the 'Tigers to a scoreless tie.
Prospects for next year's team are exceptionally bright as only five lettermen will be lost by gracluation. From all indications the Indians should ge through the ' 24 season with a clean slate.
'The: Con: R D' Mrime Ciame,
The North Central Indians under the second year of tutelage by C. E. Canup opened the 1923 gridiron season with a sweeping victory over the Cocur d' Alene squad by a $5 t-(0)$ score.
During the first few minutes of the game the ball was over for the first count. Before the game had ended the ball had been shoved over for a total of 54 points. The Red and Black presented a mid-season attack and bewildered the Lake city team with their smashing offense. The entire backfield performed brilliantly and kept the Red and White on the defense most of the game

The (fonzaga Duel
The North Central warriors were determined to defeat all rivals and continued their winning streak low walloping the Gonzaga Bullpuis to the tune of 49 to 13 in the college stadiunı. North 'Centrals' crack backfield -howed to adrantage on the dry field.
$\lambda$ fter a series of line bucks and end runs the first of the 49 points were tallied. Conzaga's aerial attack was not successful; they lost the ball on downs, and resorted to punting. Jones, Indian captain, was allowed to play in the game after the Gonzaga authorities had given their consem．Jones wan also injured in the grame． suffering a sprained ankle．

＇Tom：Walla Wiala Clash

With I on Jones out of the lineup the fight－ ing litales loit to 1 la－1II for the second suc－ cessive fear by 18－7．Kimmerman＇s gang worked like a bunch of veterans．Time after time the Blue and White skited North Cen－ tral＇s ends for good gains．The Red and Black seemed umable to solve the opponents＇of fense and although the：fought from the whistle to the final gun they could not check the Wa－Hi avalanche．Wacri，who sulstituted for Bost－ wick at guard，played a stellar gatme，theowing the cuposing back for repeated losses．Han－ ley，Indian halfback，made the onl？Reedskin score on a wide end run．

I＇me Yablma Sthicgin：

Once asain the fighting tribe of Redskins： went down battling when the lakima gang of agehertishers handed North Central a hard－ fought 7 －（）defeat at Vakima．The wo teams battled for two seomeless periods before a score was counted．Alhough outsented the Braves outplayed their opponemts，but Yakima took advantage of the only break of the game and useel that break for a score．

In the third quarter Schienost punted to Rohwer．the ball grazing the fingers of the Red and lilack quarter．I，izotte，flashy Yaki－ ma end，seooped up the pigskin and ran half the length of the field for the only score of the game．

Tilie Hidiyari Contest

In a gane featured by fumbles and flukes the North Central Scalpers went down to a 27－12 defeat at the hathls，or rather arms of the IIllyard Engineers．I＇ractically all the scoring done by the Hillyard gang was the di－ rect result of fumbles．Nevertheless Hillyard proved that she ranks with the other teams of this section．
Following the ball during the entire contest the Poilermakers converted fumbles and blocked punts into scores and when the game ended the scorehoard showed that the Hill－ yardites had 27 points to their credit．Hanley and AcGrath played a stellar game for North Central while ilscord and the 1）riskell brothers did the best work for Hillyard．

＇The lewis and Ciark Skirmish

BOYS' FEDERATION

The Bors' Rederation of North Central high school has taken two distinct steps forward this semester. The first of these steps have been taken with the idea in mind of bringing North Central in closer touch with its alummi. The second step has been taken in an endeavor to improve the election system of the Federation.

In an effort to bring Nonth Central in closer touch with its alumni, the Federation conducted the first Alumni day in the history of the school. Alumni day was held on Norember 28, the day before the amual North Cen-tral-I ewis and Clark football game. On this (lay more than 150 ) former North Central students visited their alma mater. These alumni and former students were duly registered and tagged by a committee for that purpose.

The Federation decided that Alumni day was so successful that it would be made an annual affair.

A system of registration for elections was inaugurated by the Federation this semester. Linder this system, all boys who wish to rote in the primary or general clections, are required to register. This registration takes place during the first of first and secomd week: before the primary election, which is also a new phase of liederation elections.

Registration is made in books, one book for each class. Although the registration takes place at one place, the roting takes place at fise places, according to the class of the voter.
Nominations, under the new system, are made bey the student body. This is done loy the petition system. Any boy is cligible to circulate a petition for office in the liederation. I'etitions for class representatives must be circulated ly members of the class of which the boy being pectitioned is a member. For an office, 50 ) signatures are reguited, and 1.5 for a class representative.

This change was marle in answer to the argument of some bors in school who said that the council was self-perpetuating inasmuch as it mominated its own successor:s.

In order to determine the nominees for office or class representative, of the number of hoys petitioned, a primary clection is hekl.
previous to the general election. In case suf. ficient petitions are not circulated for a particular office, the council will nominate some one of its own choosing.

I week or two after the primary election. the general election is held. 'This election, like the primary, takes place at five points, according: to the class of the woter.

These various changes in the feeferation election sy:tem, were made this last semester aan experiment. If the new system prowes successful it will be continuerl.

"HONOR BRIGHT"

"Honor Bright," the senior class production was presented before two appreciative andiences on January 11 and 12 in the atditorium. The play is a clever threc-act comedy; coached by Miss Lucile lilliot. The plot derelops around a young college girl, Honor Bright who is selling books to make money to complete her college course. She visits the Iharington home where she is mistaken for the fiaticee of the son of the house. The fiancee who is a chorus girl is supposed to make a visit there, but she goes off om some wikd escapade instead, and fails to put in her ap)pearante. 'The ant of the chorus gitl is ably interpered by Ethel 1 afferty as Tot Marvel. When Tot finally appears Nichard the son recosers from his infatuation, and is mot at all interested in her. Tou also does not care for lime and is only too glad to accept Bill I)rum, her theatrical manager, while Richard is perfectly satisfied with Homor liright as a fancee. 'lthe plot is well developect anel both

"CAPTAIN CROSSBONES"

"Captain Crosslomes," was presented in the Nort Central auditorium under the direction of C. Olin Rice and Miss Lucille Elliot, December 14 and 15. Ar. Rice and 11 iss Elliot deserve commendation for the splendid way in which the operetta was coached and presented. Miss Elisa Pinkham, girls' gymmasium director coached the two dances which were presented. Alargaret Grimstucl and 'Thelma Meçimis did excellent work as wardrobe mistresses.
"Captain Crossbones," is the story of an impoverished American planter who is in love with a Spanish girl. Her father will not consem to the marriage, so Richard Stoneviboke, the planter, turns into a pirate chief and kidnaps her. By various dupes practiced upon the father the planter finally wins his "Ladly Finir:" The cast was as follows:

."'o the Laties," a three-act plat, which was presented by the North Central faculty in the auditorium, ()ctober 19, was adjudged me of the eleverest plays given in North Central for some time. The audience was imerested every moment during the play in the develument of the plot and in the clever lines. The play was coached by A. II. Horrall and Miss I ducile Filliot, both of whom deserve much credit for their exceptional directing of the play.
ficelyn l'ickrell won her way into the heart: -f her audience with her interpretation of the chatacter of Elsic Beebe, wife of Leonard Becte who was characterized by M1r. Horrall. I.eon Woodrow as Chester furnished a bright spat of comedy to the production. The lasinese staff was composed entirely of faculty menlers. Bertha Comings was in charge of the properties. The play is the second facult: production presented in North Central. Nembers of the cast were:

THE ART DEPARTMENT

The Art department of North Central，under the direction of Tillian Stowell has done a large amotint of work this semester．Nll the scenery for the operetta was designed and painter loy the students enrolled in the art work．The students also designed the posters for the pep carnival and those advertising the operetta，the class play，and the＂clean－up－the－ grounds＂campaign．＂Ihey also drew the post－ tre：which are hanging in the cafe advising the students which are the best kinds of foods th choose for their lunches．＇Ihe students in the design classes have turned out some very wel designed pieces of jewelry．
＇The＇I＇amarack acknowledges the comment able work which the department did in laving out the designs for the title pages of the＇fam－ arack．

The class of January 1924 will leave as their gift to North Central a 90 -foot steel thag pole. The tlag pole will have a gold ball at the top and a plate with the name of the class engraved upon it. It will be equipped with a rope and pulley and will be placed on the corner of Iloward street and \ugusta a venue. 'lhe committee which investigated for the class were Ind it came to pass that Callahan, officer of the police force was promoted to Detective Callahan. I more important look and a new neckitie comfirmed the added dignity of this new position. It was, then, with a mile of reassurance that he leaned back in the chair of his six by eight office, placed his rather extensive feet on the battered desk and contemplated the only spot on the wall which offered a relief from the fingermarked and much crached plaster. The spot which attracted the attention of the soon to le famous detective Was a small sign, which proclaimed through its inks spots the following words: "The murderer alwa!s returns to the scene of his crime." " 1 ver! likely saying," thought Detective Callahan. "this itlle contemplation was broken be the resounding voice of Captain Donovan; "Callahan! (On deck!"

With a firm and heave step the would-be sleuth entered the "hige chief's" office. 'Through the hlue, smoky atmosphere he was able to make out the head of the captain, partially obscured by a ponderous cigar, as well as a small, foreign-looking woman, who was hesterically, wailing thene words; "lecete 'Tona, he losa da

"Sce?" said the captain to Callahan, "It's a plain case of murder. (ro along with the lady ant bring back the doer of homocide, deat of alive."
"Yis, sor," returned the bulkiv-footed detective, as he grableed his hat, a six-shonter and : bos of toothpichs.
He followed the lady through several streets. into a doorless doorway, and up seven tlightof stans that creeked minmercifully under the heary feet of the newly appointed detective. She conducted him into a dark room and fell down beside a hole in the lioner, which had been used as a dumbwaiter shaft. Then she sobber: and chattered, meanwhite pointing down the shaft with a sinister look of apprehension. Detective Callahan peered inte the dense llackness of the shaft and satw only empty air. Then he stoord up, twirled his mustache and noted a profound odor of garlic as all grood detectives should. After much detiberation, he decided (Contimed on paye 92) man dashed into the dimly lighted foom and tossed a shiny coin into the lap of the Italian woman. As she gave a shout of joy, Callahan leaped like a cougar on the back of the man, pinmed him in the floor and handeuffed him. Out of the room they went, the man ahead, covered with a gun ly Callahan, and into a corrider slightly illuminated by a small light.

Once out in the street, the man turned upon 1)etective Callahan with a look of vociferous hatred. "You- foon!" he choked. "After I climbed into that d-nd hole after a jitne:- ! (1) show you !"

Slowly a look of clarification and fear came over the face of 1)etective Callahan. Through the fast increasing darkness he saw the lines of the man's face. It was Captain Donovan.
. And it came to pass that Callahan was looking for a job.

"Ilhe best firshie frolic North Central ever had," according to Miss lessie (iibson, was given by the Entertainment department 'I'ues(ay, October 2 in the gym. Big sisters called for their little sisters after the eighth period and escorted them to the party. There were some 500 girls in attendance, all of whom joined heartily in the games and fun of the affair.
Goon entering the gym each person was given a slip on which were the mames of various occupations. Fach one attempted to excell in the realistic dramatization of her newly found occupation. Miss Neva B. Wiley, faculty adviser of the department, made an excellent trombonist and Jiss Gibson ironed imaginary clothes as though she had done it all her life.
liances Hughes accompanied by Ethel Lafferty gave a vocal solo. गargaret (oreen gave a humorous reading. Maurine Godfrey and Cenevieve Green were an attractive lad and lats in an original barn dance.

The progran was concluded by a grand march. Is the girls filed past the two gym offices they were handed plates of ice crean and cookies.
